DISPLAY AND BUSINESS CARD ADS – DETAILS AND RATES

The deadline is the first of the month for display and business card ad artwork, payment and repeat requests.

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be so identified. Advertisers must agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied, and to comply with a buyer's refund request on unaltered returned items.

Advertising must be prepaid, except as noted below; see "Payment" paragraph above for details. Late ads will be run only if space and time permit. Since artwork is reduced to 63% in the printing process, originals must be the artwork size listed below. Do not send in artwork on art board or send negatives. Ads should be typeset or typed neatly with a carbon ribbon, black ink (not pencil) on white. If used, reverse type must be limited to 25% of the ad. If you want us to prepare your ad, include the one-time cost below for A.R.C. to make up the ad.

Photos should be at an 85-line screen; otherwise, add $16.00 per photo for screening. Do not cut or trim photos or glue photos to artwork; submit separately.

If you are confused by these requirements and terms, please contact A.R.C. before beginning to prepare your ad. We will be happy to advise you on your ad ideas, estimate how much the ad will cost, recommend an ad size, etc.

We assume that advertisers want all ads which are submitted to run without delay; therefore, we will run the ad and bill for any additional work required for the ad to meet these specifications. A late ad will run beginning with the next month. "Tear sheets" will be sent only for 1/8-page or larger ads and only if requested when the ad is submitted.

First business card per advertiser is at lower rate.

The 3-month rates represent about an 11% discount, the 6-month rates 23%, the 12-month rates 30%. Placement requests: add 15% but call first. Clubs: write for discount policy.

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

Every once in a while, an article is submitted to A.R.C. that cries out for publication in a particular month. Jack Clark's article on the uncommon subject of electronic communication with the dead is a clear example. In fact, on first reading, it prompted the following response from one of our staff: "I recommend this article for the October issue — it's creepy!"

True enough. But, of course, before considering it for publication, we had to follow up on its content. The first step was to acquire both the Raudive and Bander books. They helped to modify the general skepticism, but we didn't decide to publish until our technical guru, Ray Bintliff, became captivated by this mystery of the airwaves. Ray was so intrigued that he has added comments to Jack's article.

Do the Raudive experiments of the early 1960s prove the possibility of electronic communication with the dead? We leave the conclusion to you.

Often, one topic seems to lead to another. In this case — crystal detectors. Raudive used a crystal detector to capture the "voices from the past," while Jim Wilson writes about a more traditional but still unusual crystal receiver — the Acme Tri-flex. This complex breadboard set uses a crystal detector and 4 vacuum tubes in a reflex circuit.

And then the crystal set story "crosses the pond" to Vienna, Austria, and Erwin Macho's collection of more than 400 sets from all over the world. A.R.C. readers have read Erwin's ads continuously over the years and will enjoy seeing him at last with some of his sets.

Bill Horn's article echoes the sentiments of all serious collectors — educate the public on the importance of keeping those old radios intact. His aim is to prevent the conversion of beautiful radio cabinets to other uses.

Of note in Photo Review is the Gilbert 1-tube Audion detector, similar to one made by Adams Morgan. Another set of interest is the Kennedy highboy console, dated 1931, one of the last years Kennedy produced radios.

Dave Crocker's goal always is to restore equipment to original condition. However, he found that his Orchestrion horn speaker had a missing throat grille, and he shares with us a step-by-step process of replacing the grille. Dave also points out how valuable collaboration with other collectors is in restoration projects.

Follow-ups on articles keep radio collecting alive and well. Philip Taylor writes more on Pilot radios from the British point of view. And we expect that Cortlandt St. will continue to trigger memories like those of Walter Bieber. His "secret passage" story must be only one of many humorous aspects of life on "Radio Row."

The auction season is in full swing, and we report on two U.S. big ones — the Michigan Antique Radio Club's Extravaganza and the Vintage Radio and Phonograph Society's spring auction. Extravaganza reporters Larry Babcock and Jim Clark give us not only the numbers, but also a walk through the flea market. This meet also has a free social hour, which nearly everyone attends, making conviviality more widespread.

Deserving of special comment is the sale of a rare Marconi 106 receiver for $15,200. This set was advertised internationally, accounting for part of the success of the over $52,000 auction. The Marconi was only one of over 200 items, so there was something for everyone.

George Potter and Blake Dietz report on the success of the Vintage Radio and Phonograph Society spring auction, which totaled over $30,000. The top sale was a 32-tube Scott unit selling at $2,000.

Our man in Vienna, Erwin Macho, reports on the Dorotheum Antique Radio Auction, which totaled over $33,000. A top item was a Victor Gramophone selling at $2,000. The next Dorotheum Auction is December 23.

For years, Paul Bourbin has been in charge of the California Historical Radio Society meets, one of which your editor enjoyed this past summer. His article shows Paul to be a staunch advocate of the enforced time meet, which allows collectors to come at the announced start time and not find that the flea market had already been open unofficially for hours. Michigan's Extravaganza is another example of the success of such a plan.

To celebrate our fifteenth year, we include, from October 1984, the first appearance of a series of value guides for radios by Jim and Felicia Kreuzer. In comparing the '84 prices with today's, it is interesting to note that they have generally doubled. However, rare items like the Atwater Kent Model 5 have tripled, while other, even more rare, items are off the charts.

Radio Miscellanea contains welcome feedback on articles about the Crosley 181, the Diamond Cut Productions Vaughn DeLeath lateral disk, and the Zenith history debate. Happily, we also continue to receive kudos for our labors here at A.R.C.

The Internet. And, of course, the internet discussion goes on. As we said last month, the question is when, not if, ads will go online. At present, we are working toward a date only a few months away. We hope that A.R.C. can be a bridge between our subscribers who prefer to buy and sell through the magazine and those who prefer to use the net. In both cases, collectors will have their markets enlarged — the best of both worlds.

Coming Radio Events. Almost 50 radio events are listed for October. Of note are the Oct. 2-3 meet in Atlanta, Georgia; the Collins Collectors meet in Dallas, Texas, Oct. 15-18; and the VRPS meet at a new location in Plano, Texas, Oct. 30-Nov. 1 — your editor plans to attend this one. Hope you can attend one meet this fall.

Happy collecting!

John V. Terrey, Editor

ON THE COVER

A.R.C. staff artist Dave Crocker created this month's distinctly Halloween cover. Dave was inspired by our lead article, "Electronic Ghosts," which describes the mysterious results of experiments by Dr. Konstantin Raudive. Raudive used a crystal set to gather sounds that, to many unbiased listeners, were identifiable voices of the dead, some of them very famous. Note Dave's sketches of Churchill, Mussolini, and Hitler. The subject is made to order for this month of ghosts and goblins.

Electronic Ghosts

BY JACK CLARK

Voices from the distant past appearing mysteriously on recording tapes? Crystal sets designed to enhance reception of many of these voices, including those of Hitler, Goethe, Churchill, and Stalin? These same voices entering discussions and answering questions? An unexplained phenomenon, as with the controversial and yet-to-be explained UFO sightings? Whether a startling discovery or a hoax, Jack Clark gives an unbiased commentary on the heavily documented experiments of Dr. Konstantin Raudive, a Latvian psychologist. And incidentally, a quick perusal of the internet yielded over 50 references to Raudive. (Editor)

The schematic in Figure 1 is probably familiar to those with more than a passing interest in radio technology — the simple, but effective, crystal radio. Yet a closer look at the schematic reveals an incongruous detail — the antenna length is only 6-10 cm in length! Further, the entire circuit, exclusive of the tiny antenna, is fully shielded by being enclosed in a container. It's apparent that the designer of this circuit did not intend to make efficient use of a device not known for its sensitivity, even with the best of antennas.

And such is indeed the case. For Dr. Konstantin Raudive, who conducted a series of unconventional experiments in the late 1960s with this circuit, the aim was not conventional radio at all.

THE PHENOMENON

In 1959, Friedrich Jurgenson, a Swedish author, made a startling discovery. After recording bird songs in the woods on a common tape recorder/microphone arrangement, Mr. Jurgenson heard low level "blips" where only tape hiss should have been. Playing back these blips slowly and using a careful ear to tune out unwanted noise, he heard voices emerging from the background! And most startlingly, the voices, once identified, belonged to those who were, well — dead!

Friedrich Jurgenson's subsequent experiments with "electronic voice phenomena" astonished scientists, engineers and clergymen throughout Europe. Although credited with the discovery, Mr. Jurgenson's publications of the phenomenon were rarely translated or read outside of his native Sweden. It was the Latvian psychologist, Dr. Konstantin Raudive, who compiled extensive documentation that told the world that something very important and mysterious was on the airwaves.

Following a visit with Mr. Jurgenson, Dr. Raudive began his experiments with the sober dedication of a scientist. Using Jurgenson's open mike set-up, he amassed voluminous transcriptions and even discovered that the voices would answer direct questions. Obviously though, a microphone at high volume settings picks up much in the way of undesirable information. Although some witnesses confirmed the results of these early experiments, many heard only highly amplified room noise.

In the mid-1960s, Dr. Raudive, on a whim, began using a crystal set as a receiving medium. With no background in electronics, he was very much at a loss to explain the crystal receiver's success as a channel for these random messages. However, it was clear that the limitations of the microphone method had been overcome.

Experimenting with antennas of varying length and different grounding configurations, and using different sensitivities of tape recorder inputs, he transcribed over 72,000 events. The speakers included Emmanual Kant, Winston Churchill, Mussolini, Goethe, Nietzsche, Stalin, Carl Jung, Adolph Hitler (the most frequently recorded), and dozens of others. The list reads like a "Who's Who" of European culture. Dr. Raudive published his transcripts in the 1971 book Breakthrough.

It's important to note that, as a scientist, he remained skeptical throughout his early experiments, and that before settling down to the task of transcribing the volumes of recordings, he performed exhaustive experiments to eliminate any possibility of the recordings having been spurious radio or other interferences. Scores of witnesses were gathered to listen to and verify his recordings. Among the witnesses were elders of the Catholic church who, while not proclaiming any knowledge of the true nature of these voices, were in support as to the validity of their occurrence.

DON'T TRY THIS AT HOME

OK, there's your warning — proceed only if you do so of your own free will.

Dr. Raudive always felt that his dabbling, though very important, was essentially benign, and carried no moral implications or danger. But, there are always some who believe that exploring the unknown is dangerous. The point is, if you or anyone concerned is apt to get too emotional over any part of this, leave it alone.

Dr. Raudive stressed that emotional detachment is an important element in the effectiveness of communication with the entities. He suggested approaching the matter as you would viewing photographs of those long departed, with the sophisti-

Some Additional Thoughts: Technical and Otherwise

BY RAY BINTLIFF

Jack Clark's intriguing article made me want to read the Raudive and Bander books, which, in turn, prompted the following thoughts:

The schematic diagram shown in Figure 1 in Clark's article is representative of a crystal set, but does not provide values for its components. For you do-it-yourselfers, two of the schematics that appear in Breakthrough are shown below. Any general purpose diode, germanium or silicon, can be used. Remember to install the components in a shielded enclosure with only the short antenna (about 2 to 4 inches) protruding. The connecting cable to the tape recorder should be shielded. Its recommended length is about 16 inches.

In addition to the diode and microphone methods described in Clark's article, Raudive also employed a radio method in which the audio output of a communications type receiver was connected to a tape recorder. Again, a very short antenna was used. The radio was tuned to a quiet spot in the medium-wave band. Finding a quiet spot around 7 MHz can be a real challenge with the many international broadcast stations and Amateur radio activity.

In a variation of the radio method, Raudive coupled "a small transmitter...to the aerial box of the receiver, in order to provide the voices with a carrier wave that is free from heterodyne oscillation and interference." Perhaps the same effect can be achieved by turning on the receiver's BFO or listening in the single sideband (SSB) mode.

Some questions spring to mind that are not covered in the books. Is the solar cycle a factor in this phenomena? Solar cycle 20 produced a high sunspot level during the late 1960s when may of the voice recordings were made. How about the phases of the moon? The books do indicate that the hours of darkness seemed to produce better results. Tape recorders use a bias oscillator in the recording process. Does the bias oscillator play a role as well?

If you want to pursue this subject further, Breakthrough and Voices From The Tapes may be available from your library. The internet too is worth exploring.

In my opinion, the real meat in Breakthrough is contained in its preface and appendices. Transcriptions of the recorded voices, which make up most of the book, are a sure cure for insomnia. The translation from German to English and Raudive's resistance to the editor's attempt to simplify the text make for some difficult reading. Although electronics play a major role in Raudive's experiments, his book does not provide much in the way of technical detail. But don't be put off by some of the negative aspects of the books. Keep an open mind. Who knows? You might want to pursue this unusual application of electronics.

cation of knowing that photos, and possibly voices, are only reflections of actual events.

O.K. There's your warning. Proceed at your own risk.

Figure 2 is the schematic of a receiver designed and built especially for experiments of this type by Professor Alex Schneider, a collaborator of Dr. Raudive. One can't help but notice the unconventional use of a magnet and bridge rectifier (referred to as a "ring modulator"). Regardless of its questionable design, this is the circuit that gave the best performance for all who tried it.

Dr. Raudive's recordings took place in various parts of Europe. Since the doctor spoke a variety of European languages and dialects, he was able to decipher the mixed and shifting voices with ease. While his conclusions never indicated that the entities were geographically linked, it seems reasonable to assume that since a preponderance of these personalities came from Europe, there would be similar "regional" events elsewhere.

The only other factors that Dr. Raudive believed contributed to who was "on the air" at any given time were: (1) A direct inquiry from the interviewer, and (2) the strength of the entity's will — perhaps an explanation of the extraordinary amount of air space claimed by Adolph Hitler.

Whether extradimensional contacts are fact or the result of active imaginations remains to be proven. Neither Konstantin Raudive or Thomas Edison (who also experimented with mechanical means of communication with the dead) was able to provide irrefutable proof. What is of most interest, however, is the introduction of electronics as an objective medium. With repeatable, non-judgmental precision, the lowly crystal radio may just bring more to life than you might have imagined!

More Tales of Cortlandt St.

BY WALTER BIEBER

What a cover! Rand Radio! I couldn't believe my eyes. When I first saw that picture I had to do a double take. Never did I think I'd see that view again. My mind exploded with a rush of memories. I was transported back to the year 1949. Allow me to relate a few vignettes.

Rand at No. 84 and Arrow at No. 82 Cortlandt were really the same store. They were connected by a "secret" passageway in the rear. Secret, that is, to the outside world. But, not to the salesmen inside. You see, the two stores shared a common inventory. The salesmen knew each other very well. It was very common for a shopper to wander from store to store looking for a particular item at the best price.

Rand was a little more shoddy in appearance, while Arrow was all spit and polish. So, the potential shopper believed he could get a better buy at Rand. After trying to obtain, say, a Simpson 260 VOM at Rand and being quoted $40 there, the shopper would move on to check out Arrow. In the short space of time that it took the shopper to leave one store and enter the other, the original salesman would make a mad dash via the secret passage to Arrow. He would, of course, impart the news of a potential sale loss to one of his allies there.

On the lookout for the shopper whose appearance had been described, the new salesman was fully prepared to make a better offer. Let's say $36. This was a high ticket item then, and the sale was made.

Similarly, Terminal Radio might run out of a part for a large order. Many a time I remember Steadman Lidell, a key salesman there, running across Cortlandt St. into Arrow to get a Stancor transformer. Borrowing from each other was quite common. How the books were kept straight was sometimes a mystery. But, it helped if you came across the street with a fistful of cash in hand.

Though the map is quite accurate, a few missing places are noteworthy. Dave's Luncheonette on the SE corner of Cortlandt and Washington surely deserves mention. Many a fine lunch, like egg salad and bacon on toasted rye, was enjoyed there on those busy Saturdays.

Also missing is Liberty Communications, one block east of TAB on the north side. That was four stories full of war surplus. I don't know how that building was able to sustain all that weight. I swear that it groaned every time I walked in.

Acme Tri-Flex

BY JIM WILSON

This 4-tube reflex, breadboard-style set with a crystal detector, as shown in Figure 1, functions as three stages of RF amplification and three stages of audio amplification. The nameplate reads, "Acme Tri-Flex, Registered No. 2244, Sole right to manufacture Acme Tri-Flex controlled by R-O-V-A Radio Products Corp., New York, N. Y." This rare breadboard was probably part of a "one-shot" production run for ROVA. Acme is best known for its components for home-brew sets. These components can be seen in Figure 2.

In response to my inquiry, Alan Douglas said that this set, popular around 1924, seems to have all Acme parts, although sometimes people made substitutions. Adding that ROVA was a New York dealer who advertised a great deal in newspapers, Alan surmised that the company might have made a deal with Acme, maybe for the Christmas season, to assemble some sets and peddle them.

If readers can provide additional information regarding this set, please write to A.R.C.

The Worldwide Crystal Sets of Erwin Macho

BY ERWIN MACHO

Erwin Macho has been a faithful fan of A.R.C. for a number of years, and we look always forward to his reports on the Vienna radio auction scene. We are also pleased to have this account of his extensive crystal set collection and hope that it generates the correspondence he wishes to receive. Anyone traveling to Austria would enjoy seeing Erwin's collection, as your editor did on a trip a few years ago. By the way, Erwin encourages us to correct his English, which we assure him is much better than our German! (Editor)

I collect crystal sets because I am still fascinated with listening to a broadcasting station with a set that works without batteries or mains electricity.

This fascination started in 1979 with my first crystal set which I had found at a Vienna flea market. It was a poorly-made, home-brew receiver with a wound coil and a simple crystal detector — but it worked! From this moment I began to search more intensely at all flea markets in Vienna and to contact radio collectors. I became a specialist in Austrian crystal sets and tried to find items from other European manufacturers.

In 1984, the famous Ritman collection was auctioned in London. I bought five wonderful sets, including an Edison Bell with twin illuminated enclosed detectors. This was the beginning of my British collection.

Since then my collection has grown to more than 200 sets. They are mostly from Austria and Germany, but also from Sweden, Denmark, Belgium, Poland, Spain, Hungary, Great Britain, and one from the USA — a Philmore "Little Giant" in very poor condition.

I wanted to restore this set but I saw various difficulties. Nobody in Europe had the missing Fahnestock clips and back cover, so I tried to make contact with collectors in the U. S. The turning point for my collection was acquiring a subscription to Antique Radio Classified. A.R.C. enabled me not only to buy American-made crystal sets, but also to become well known as a collector of crystal sets. Be assured — I bought much! Some of my sets are shown in Crystal Clear, Volume 2 by Maurice Sievers.

My little museum, shown in Figures 1-4, now contains 407 different crystal sets from all over the world. Most of them are pre-World War II, but I also collect sets with germanium diodes. These sets are housed in four large showcases and classified as "Austria," "USA/GB," and "Worldwide." To complete my display, I also have hundreds of crystal detectors and crystal containers.

My plan for the future is to look for missing novelty crystal sets from all over the world, dating from the beginning of broadcasting to the present time. Maybe you can help. Collectors who wish to correspond are invited to write to me at the address below.

WITH THE COLLECTORS

Spare That Old Radio!

BY W.J. HORN

Like other radio enthusiasts, I search for old radios and related items. Radio meets, auctions, antique shops, yard sales and personal contacts often provide nice old radios. But, sometimes it seems I'm not finding as many, and I wonder what I missed.

I often ask, "Do you have any old radios, tubes, parts, speakers, etc.?" Sometimes, the reply is yes; usually, it is no. Too often I get a distressing reply — "You're too late, it/they went to the landfill," or "Gee, my relative had an old radio when he died, but we didn't know what to do with it, so it went in the trash." Then I have to say I am very disappointed. Not everybody knows the value of an old radio or knows a radio collector to call.

Some neighbors have given me radios. They say they retrieved them from the trash packer or landfill. How about the likes of two Philco 89 cathedrals, a Packard Bell 88, or a Zenith 4K635 with boomerang dial? They played. Landfill operators tell stories of having seen many "old" radios tossed over the side. What constitutes "old"?

NEGLECT AND CONVERSIONS

Can you imagine the rust accumulation on two Atwater Kent horns sitting for years on a damp concrete floor; a Philco tombstone, a Zenith portable, test equipment, and boxed tubes in an open sided barn; or a Zenith chairside under a building overhang? All exposed to the ravages of storms! What tragedy, what loss!

Some nice old radios have made their way from previous owners through auctions to antique and what-not shops. Some have suffered handling abuse. I've seen too many nice wood-cased radios with the chassis and speakers removed and the cabinet converted to something else.

For example, the nice Majestic Model 72 with its walnut and birdseye maple, double-door front, shown in Figure 1 (left), was converted to the shelved cabinet, shown in Figure 1 (right). Its price in the antique shop was $275. What happened to the Majestic chassis, power supply, and speaker? They were removed. The multiconductor cable between chassis had been severed. I found it on the floor in the back room of the shop, and I bought it for anyone who can use it.

I have seen an RCA Radiola 60 case and a Gilfillan GN-5 case converted to "nice" boxes. Someone had removed the hardware and installed a blank panel in front.

"We have a Crosley with wood case and hinged top that at one time was to become a very nice wood box." So said the little old antique shop lady. Demand for wood boxes must be greater than for old radios.

I know of two examples of Spartan 301 Equasonne conversions. Their finely crafted and carved double-door cases were emptied by some uncaring soul to make someone a fine wine cabinet. Sure, they were sitting in an antique shop with a price tag of $450. Where did the chassis with its 11 tubes and speaker go?

I have a nice Pooley slant-front desk cabinet. It is without its Kennedy Model 21/30/32 chassis and Jensen speaker. Where did they go? The case was empty when we got it. How many empty cases have you seen?

Worst of all, I know of an old radio repairman who, not too long ago, made room for his repair business and sales. He did it by taking three pickup loads of old radios to the landfill. He said he did save the tubes. Yes, but no. He put them in big cardboard boxes in a wet basement. We found most of the tubes floating in 2-3 inches of dank, dirty water. He wouldn't let me try to salvage any.

I know I've seen only some of the results of unknowing and uncaring people. I'm sure other collectors have seen or heard of worse situations. If we intend to preserve radio history, we better spread the word. Let's educate our neighbors and express our interests. Talk to people, and don't forget the antique furniture dealers. We can't restore a radio that we don't find.

OLLECTORS VALUE GUIDE

Most radio collectors will agree that there has been a need for basic price guidelines on early radios. There is also a group who would much rather not see one. Due to condition, originality and other extenuating factors, it is quite a difficult task to assign one price for a radio. Although I know I am leaving myself wide open for criticism, so it shall have to be. In the interests of growth in the collecting field, here are my appraisals.

Since it is logical to start at the beginning, this month will include a basic radio group of the "A's". The volume of Atwater Kents has limited me to listing only a few of the models made. Thanks goes to Ralph Williams, who, due to his vast knowledge on anything pertaining to the Atwater Kent line, was able to fill me in on their prices.

The prices quoted below represent a complete radio with operating tubes and transformers, good original condition with no holes added or refinished cabinet. They do not reflect your average flea market or house sale. Instead it is a basic "top buck" you may pay at an auction with other collectors present. Antique dealers know that few items take actual "tops" depending on availability and condition. Please keep this in mind when perusing my list.

PHOTO REVIEW

This column presents in pictorial form many of the more unusual radios, speakers, tubes, advertising, and other old radio-related items from our readers' collections. The photos are meant to help increase awareness of what's available in the radio collecting hobby. Send in any size photos from your collection. Photos must be sharp in detail, contain a single item, and preferably have a light-colored background. A short, descriptive paragraph MUST be included with each photo. Please note that receipt of photos is not acknowledged, publishing is not guaranteed, and photos are not returned.

SPARTA JR., MODEL UNKNOWN – Although the escutcheon reads "Sparta Jr.," the grille repwood design is identical to that of the Sparton Jr. Model 410. The tube complement is Types 24A (3), 27, 45, and 80. Does anyone have more information on this set? (Bob Suslovich – McLean, VA)

GILBERT AUDION DETECTOR – This is one of many components offered to the youth of 1921 for assembling a complete radio receiver. This audion tube detector was manufactured by the A.C. Gilbert Co. of New Haven, Conn. It has a molded Bakelite base, and each of the binding posts has a tiny "G" molded into the top. (Dave Crocker – Mashpee, MA)

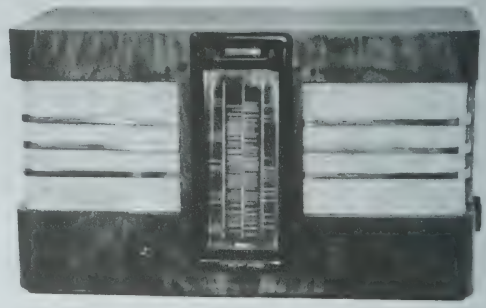
TEFAG TEFADYN 200GW – The Tefadyn line, made in Berlin between 1937 and 1939, created a stir in the radio industry because of its modern lines with a vertical dial at the center. This radio, purchased as a "basket case," has been restored. Some of the uncommon tubes have been acquired through a friend in Germany. A superb performer, it has double, loosely coupled tuned circuits at the input stage, variable coupling of the IF transformers via a front knob, and an excellent permanent magnet speaker.



The tubes types are CK1, CF3, CBC1, CL4, and CY1. (Jorge Llacer – Los Gatos, CA)

SENTINEL MODEL 560 – This 5-tube AC/DC set is covered in a green fabric with an embossed design from Medieval times, including shields, a castle, and a knight. The tube complement is Types 38, 25Z5, 78, 77, and 6A7. The line cord has a plug adapter for 115-volt AC or DC, 32-volt DC, or 6-volt DC. The schematic information includes suggestions for various automobile-mounting options. (Steve Smith – Chandler, AZ)

RCA VICTOR CALENDAR – This 1954 advertising calendar was a "giveaway" at RCA dealerships. (Guy Forstrom – Quinnesec, MI)

KENNEDY MODEL 61LS – This set uses 9 tubes in 2 chassis. The price in 1931 was $139.50. The "LS" indicates a long and short-wave receiver. (Ross Mason – Mason City, IA)

The Orchestrion DeLuxe Horn Speaker Throat Grille

BY DAVE CROCKER

Dave Crocker is persistent when it comes to restoring radios, horns, anything radio-related in as authentic a way as possible. Here he relates how a fellow collector helped him to recreate an authentic substitute grille for his Orchestrion DeLuxe horn speaker — until such a time he can find the real thing, that is! (Editor)

The Orchestrion DeLuxe horn speaker, shown in Figure 1, was manufactured by the Radio Cabinet Co. of Indianapolis, Indiana. It is unique in that the base, neck, and bell are entirely constructed of different kinds of wood. Around the outer rim of the alternating walnut and mahogany bell is inserted a thin strip of white DuPont Pyralin material to hold the wooden pieces together.

In the September 1991 issue of A.R.C., Floyd Paul gave the results of an Orchestrion speaker survey inquiry that had appeared seven months earlier in A.R.C. This report mentioned that some of the Orchestrions had a throat grille inside where the threaded bell screwed into the neck.

I found my Orchestrion without a grille, but it has a silver-gray band painted around the inside area where the neck and bell meet, unlike the all-black interior found on other horns without a grille. The paint shows age, but appears original. Could the silver-gray band have been added to help reflect a throat grille now missing? This was my conclusion, and I hope someday to find this elusive grille.

However, just recently, a friend from Ohio offered to send me a pattern of the cardboard throat grille inside his own Orchestrion. He sent dimensions, photos and patterns — all of which show just how most fellow collectors are willing to help each other out. I'm truly indebted to him for all his work.

RECREATING THE THROAT GRILLE

Figure 2 shows my friend's original pattern. If you have an Orchestrion and have reason to believe it came originally with a grille, here's what you can do:

Take the pattern shown here to your local copy center and enlarge the image to $4^{7}/_{16}$" inches across. Then trace this larger image on thin $^{1}/_{16}$" thick cardboard material. Carefully cut out the pattern, and then spray both sides with satin black acrylic. When it is dry, and if you are fortunate enough to find some old, gold-colored, silk-like fabric, glue it to the back of the pattern.

If you can't come up with really old material, do as I did — purchase a modern, great looking substitute at your local fabric shop. I first glued a piece of Polyorganza, Antique Gold, #309-3275, to the pattern. This had the correct texture, but needed to be more of a yellow color. So, I then cut a same-size piece of Posh Camel, #073-0143, which I glued (only around the edges) over the antique gold fabric, being careful to rotate the material so no moiré effect would occur in the combination of the two fabric pieces.

Next, simply but carefully, unscrew your Orchestrion bell and insert the finished pattern so that two of the spokes in the grille become vertical. You may have to sand the edges to fit your particular horn neck.

The grille cloth can either be glued permanently in place or just press-fit, as the bell will hold it in place when it is screwed back into the neck. Helpful hint: a light touch of baby powder on the wooden threads will help keep the neck and bell threads lubricated. Figure 3 shows the Orchestrion with the throat grille installed.

If you decide to try this method, I hope you find the results as pleasing as I did. Good Luck.

(Dave Crocker, 4B Beechwood Point Dr., Mashpee, MA 02649)

Pilot Radio Follow-Up

BY PHILIP TAYLOR

With reference to Phil Moore's article on Pilot radios (A.R.C., July 1998), while it is true British radio set manufacturers did not use metal octal valves, they were available in Britain from as early as 1936. There were a number of wholesale and retail companies who specialized in importing American valves, and most brands were advertised in Wireless World in the late 1930s.

British valve makers, such as Brimar, Cossor, Ferranti, and Mullard, and Tungsram, sold metal octals from the 1940s onward. These were all imported or war surplus, sometimes resprayed and rebranded, and sometimes not. No one, except the Russians, manufactured metal octal valves outside the U. S., I believe. German metal valves, introduced in 1938, were similar though.

The radio receiving license, which every British household had to have between 1925 and 1971, cost ten shillings in 1938, approximately $2 at the time. Prior to 1925, there had been various commercial and home-constructing licenses and fees. In 1971, the separate radio license was abolished, as numbers had declined considerably since 1946 when the combined radio and television receiving license was first introduced. All licenses were sold by the post office, which deducted a fee before passing on the balance to the BBC, which had been financed from license fees since 1922.

One license per household covered any number of radio sets, regardless of the complexity or valve count. Radio set manufacturers paid a royalty to patent holders, depending on the number of valves. Typical patent holders would be the Marconi Company and E.M.I.

Such a valve socket tax encouraged the development of high performance valves. Three-valve plus rectifier superhets were popular with some British makers. They used a steep-slope, double-diode output pentode or tetrode, with the pentode or tetrode section having a slope of 6 mA/v or more and capable of reasonable output with little input.

MEET AND AUCTION REPORT

Michigan Antique Radio Club Extravaganza '98
Lansing, Michigan — July 10-12, 1998

CONTRIBUTED BY LARRY BABCOCK AND JIM CLARK

The Michigan Antique Radio Club (MARC) held its 13th annual Extravaganza convention at the Holiday Inn South Convention Center in Lansing, Michigan from July 10 to 12, 1998. The theme of this year's convention was "Detrola — The Little Company That Could."

Somehow MARC seems able to surpass its previous meet every year, and 1998 was no exception. The huge social event, large flea market, fine talks, and excellent auction were all superb, but perhaps the most outstanding factor of this year's event was the quality of the artifacts offered for sale in the flea market and at the auction.

The weather was spectacular throughout the 3-day event which had well over 1,000 attendees. Family registrations numbered 382 from 29 states and 4 foreign countries. The flea market was wildly active all day Friday and Saturday morning. There were 175 different sellers occupying 267 outside selling spaces and 33 inside tables under the 40' x 120' tent in the middle of the flea market. The 4 programs, spread over 3 days, were well attended.

Just about all of the early Federal radios were available in the flea market, including Models 57, 58, 59, 61, 110, and a Federal Junior, as well as a couple of the nice later Federal Orthosonic sets. The Federal 58 was offered at $900 and a Federal 59 in very good condition at $1,200. A Federal F-10 was tagged at $175.

Did you ever see a wood Timbertone horn speaker with a base like a violin, including the two "S" cuts, for sale? Ed Bell offered one at $1,500. He also had a beautiful British Marconiphone V2A, said to be from the Muchow collection, for $1,300.

A warning: Auction prices are not current values. Our selection of auction items is not necessarily complete. A listing such as this cannot adequately include the condition of cabinets, chassis, transformers, tubes, the operating status of the set, and the inclusion of incorrect, restored or replica components, etc. Auction prices are the result of the excitement of the auction process, the skill of the auctioneer and the specific interests of the participants. Nevertheless, auction prices serve as useful references and as another element in the value determining process. The possibility of error always exists, and if we are notified, corrections will be reported.*

The 40' x 120' tent in the center of the flea market area held 60 tables, each 8' long, for sellers and registration, as well as for free food, snacks and drinks.

In the parking lot flea market, among the nice items for sale were several Colonial World Globe radios; a very good-looking Stromberg-Carlson corner console selling for $275; and the unusual Jessie French Jr. console, in very good condition and looking like an oversized cathedral on long curved legs, for $950.

MARC's Friday night "Social Hour" is unique to other radio meets because it is a 3-hour, informal party, open to all, complete with free hors d'oeuvres and snacks. About 200 people attended and enjoyed presentations, stories, and talks. Dennis Smith of Trenton, Michigan gave an interesting video presentation on Detrola radios.

In the same room during the Social Hour was an exhibit of Detrola radios, a tube exhibit by Bob Dobush, and all the contest entries from the 12 contest categories. Seven of the ten contest categories dealt with various ages of radio products made in Michigan; the other categories were novelty radios, speakers, and "open." There were many fabulous and seldom seen entries including Jay Volke's prize-winning Japanese piano transistor radio and night light display.

Throughout the meet, several other programs were presented: John Reinicke on repairing phonographs; Kent King on the geneology of antique magazines on radio; and Bob Dobush on early radio tubes, as well as a program about collecting on the internet.

The auction on Saturday afternoon was outstanding. With 183 registered bidders, the gross sales were an astounding $52,042, and included 262 items of which 226 sold. A total of 36 items did

The highlight, of course, was the sale of a fabulous Marconi 106 receiver which went for $15,200. This was the highest price a radio has sold for at any radio meet auction that we are aware of anywhere in the world. For comparison, the American Marconi 106D sold at the Henry Ford Museum auction brought $18,000.

Among the other early historical sets were a Western Electric 14A speaker and amplifier with 216 tubes all mounted in a rectangular wood cabinet selling for $1,060. An Ozarka wood table radio built to look like a treasure chest brought $575, and a very small Martian crystal set mounted on chrome tripod legs sold for $500.

The exquisite "Three Little Pigs" cathedral by Hutson Ross brought the second highest price of $3,400. A Fada 115 restored Catalin in blue and yellow went for $3,100. Other Catalin sets included a butterscotch Fada 5860 for $600 and a Fada 1000, butterscotch with red trim, with some cracks and not playing, for $300.

Prices do go down as well as up. The last item in the auction was a Philco 90A cathedral in very good restored condition with original parts and working, which sold for $275. A few years back this model sold for $600 or more.

The following is a list of selected items from the auction:

VRPS Spring '98 Auction
Grapevine, Texas — March 28, 1998

CONTRIBUTED BY GEORGE POTTER AND BLAKE DIETZ

The Vintage Radio and Phonograph Society (VRPS) held its annual spring auction on March 28, 1998, at the Grapevine Convention Center just north of the Dallas/Fort Worth Airport. Approximately 150 attended the event, which auctioneer Jim Sargent kept going at a swift pace. Again this year, remote TV cameras, which were in an adjacent area, were used to show the large items on video monitors to the bidders.

Included in the auction were estate items from the late John Rawlins collection. Sales totalled $31,800, of which $6,000 was from the estate. Of the 588 items sold, only 22 were passed.

The Grapevine Convention Center afforded VRPS a large open space to display equipment being sold. Another advantage was the club's having the facility exclusively for the event. Hotels in the area are limited, but Grapevine is developing more accommodations near the convention center.

Some highlights of the auction included the following: Atwater Kent 84 and 87 cathedrals selling at $400 and $550 respectively, both in excellent condition; a black Neutrowound at $150; a Melody Ship Cruiser at $290; a Paragon Type 2 at $290; a Michigan MRC-1/amp at $230; a Philco Predicta Pedestal TV at $370; a Philco 70 grandfather clock at $425; a Scott 32-tube unit at $1,000; a Philco Predicta 4242 TV at $410; Rider Vols. 18-23 at $380; Zenith R-7000 at $220; and a Victor VV-VI phonograph at $160. Many superhets from the John Rawlins collection sold from $170 to $160.

Dorotheum Antique Radio Auction
Vienna, Austria — June 13, 1998

CONTRIBUTED BY ERWIN MACHO

Auktionshaus Dorotheum in the first district of Vienna held its sixth cataloged radio auction on June 13, 1998. A preview was available from June 2 to June 12, as well as on the morning of the auction.

Many collectors examined ten large showcases of radios of all types from the early 1920s to the late 1960s. In addition, there were crystal sets, gramophones, telephones, microphones, books, and some novelties, including a NEMA code machine and a Radioscop, which had been used only in Vienna from 1926-1928. This instrument enabled the radio listener, when instructed during a broadcast, to view a selected picture on an inserted filmstrip sold by the magazine Radio-Wien. The Radioscop sold for $160.

Among the auction highlights were a Victor M3197 Gramophone, selling at $2,000, and a green Regency TR-1 at $200. The greatest surprise was the sale of an Ingelen Geographic US837, described on the cover of the catalog, for which bids started at $800. Some seconds later, the set was sold for $1,760.

Of the 259 lots offered, 80 percent sold, totalling $33,300. A 20 percent buyer's premium must be added to the sale price.

The next Dorotheum Antique Radio Auction will be held on December 23, 1998, at 10 A.M., in Vienna, Austria — just in time for Christmas. An illustrated catalog may be ordered from Auktionshaus Dorotheum, Subscription Dept., Dorotheergasse 17, 1010 Vienna, Austria. Tel.: +431/51560-289; Fax: +431/51560-508; Internet: http://www.dorotheum.com; E-mail: client.service@dorotheum.at. Catalog shipping will begin in November and the price is about $12. The following credit cards are accepted: American Express, Visa, MasterCard, and Diners Club.

This Ingelen Geographic US837 was the surprise of the auction and brought an amazingly high bid of $1,760.

More on the Crosley 181

The article on the Crosley 181 in the September A.R.C. makes reference to a bright yellow radio with dark green trim and describes cutouts "designed to look like a Phoenix, a version of a thunderbird or some sort of Indian desert god." It also comments that "the two escutcheons are also designed to have a bird-like look, as they are winged and slightly feathered and have a curved bottom."

I have an identical radio in plain old wood, same grille and everything. I find nothing about this radio to indicate any Indian connection. The escutcheons have no "feathering." I also have another Crosley radio, same age, with an identical escutcheon. Its case is narrower, each side having three vertical trim strips painted silver, the center one being somewhat longer. This style reminds me of a skyscraper. Wasn't this about the time of the great skyscraper boom in New York City?

I believe that Richard Arnold's set was painted outside the factory and damaged to the point that the trim looks feathered. (This is opinion only and is not intended to reflect negatively on Richard Arnold's ideas about his set.)

Bill Turner, St. Charles, MO

Diamond Cut Disks Are Great!

Dear Editor:

I have to compliment you on the review of the new Diamond Cut Productions disk, "Edison Laterals, Vol. 5, Vaughn DeLeath." I first heard her on a Victor LP entitled "1928." My mom told me that Miss DeLeath was a great singer, and her "Baby Your Mother Like She Babied You" really turned me on to her style of "crooning." She made a lot of records on Edison Diamond Disk. I have and enjoy "Mah Lindy Lou" and "Marianna" on an Edison Diamond Disk.

Hey, if you'd like something to play on your antique radio or your state-of-the-art system, she is a great choice. Check out "Jeannine, I Think of Lilac Time," "Birmingham Bertha," "Honey," and "Honey, I'se Awaitin' Jes Fo' You."

John Frigo, Homewood, IL

The Zenith History Debate

Dear Editor:

The subject doesn't really matter: Put two or more experts in a room, and they're bound to disagree.

In the case of Alan Douglas vs. the Radio Professors, it's clearly become more of a personal issue than not seeing eye-to-eye on Zenith history. There is no room on either side for this kind of egotistical behavior in this hobby.

Wouldn't the antique radio community be better served if the parties in question pooled their knowledge and resources to provide a comprehensive reference for collectors, rather than performing a verbal mudslinging for an uninterested audience?

Mike Koste, Ambler, PA

A.R.C. on the Internet — Soon!

Dear Editor:

I just wanted to share my thoughts on A.R.C. and the internet. In a nutshell, I hope you do decide to use this medium for your magazine. I enjoy buying and selling novelty radios and tube radios. Please do consider using the internet for your great magazine so that I can buy more radios through you. I continue to visit your website every month as I do enjoy what is installed there.

Gary Arnold, Marion, NC

Dear Editor:

After many years, I will be changing my First-Class subscription to Periodical Class when it is time to renew. Why? Because I've discovered I no longer look at the "For Sale" classifieds. I look at A.R.C. now only for the articles and to peruse the "Wanted" ads.

All of my mail order purchases, about 1 or 2 a month, are done on the internet auction services. I like the ability to search, to see the radio and a detailed description, and to know the radio is there. Gone is the interruption of someone's dinner just to find that the radio is sold, or the seller is asking too high a price. For example, the ebay radio auction site is now up to over 2,000 radio listings — up from only 300 just 6 short months ago.

I think, if A.R.C. is to survive, it must make the internet transition too.

R.J. Dial, Pleasanton, CA

Subscribers, look for A.R.C.'s classified ads on the internet soon! Ads will appear from both surfers and readers, with A.R.C. as the link between the two groups. (Editor)

Kudos to A.R.C.

Dear Editor:

I write to emphasize the personal relationship I feel with A.R.C. as embodied by the superb staff. Every transaction I've had with A.R.C. since its first edition has been in the manner I prefer to conduct my personal relationships. It is so rare in commerce that I want to tell you folks to pat yourselves on your backs!

Congratulations on a job done much more than well — and I enclose my check for a two-year renewal, First Class, to extend for 26 issues through December 2000.

Dennis J. Osborne, Raleigh, NC

Dear Editor:

Keep up the good work! I am renewing my subscription for two years First Class, so even though I don't buy green bananas at my age, I expect to be reading your great publication for a long time to come. Take care of #1!

Stan Lopes, Concord, CA

Dear Editor:

I took a subscription for only six months, but want six months more. I love your publication — it's great!

Jack Busk, Cottonwood, AZ

RADIO MISCELLANEA

"Radio Miscellanea" includes items of general interest selected from A.R.C.'s incoming correspondence. "In The Marketplace" items are based on information submitted by the businesses themselves. "From The Internet" items are obtained from internet newsgroups and other internet resources. Submitted items should be verified for accuracy; items may be edited by A.R.C. for publication, and publication is not guaranteed. See the masthead for more details.

More on the Crosley 181

The article on the Crosley 181 in the September A.R.C. makes reference to a bright yellow radio with dark green trim and describes cutouts "designed to look like a Phoenix, a version of a thunderbird or some sort of Indian desert god." It also comments that "the two escutcheons are also designed to have a bird-like look, as they are winged and slightly feathered and have a curved bottom."

I have an identical radio in plain old wood, same grille and everything. I find nothing about this radio to indicate any Indian connection. The escutcheons have no "feathering." I also have another Crosley radio, same age, with an identical escutcheon. Its case is narrower, each side having three vertical trim strips painted silver, the center one being somewhat longer. This style reminds me of a skyscraper. Wasn't this about the time of the great skyscraper boom in New York City?

I believe that Richard Arnold's set was painted outside the factory and damaged to the point that the trim looks feathered. (This is opinion only and is not intended to reflect negatively on Richard Arnold's ideas about his set.)

Bill Turner, St. Charles, MO

Diamond Cut Disks Are Great!

Dear Editor:

I have to compliment you on the review of the new Diamond Cut Productions disk, "Edison Laterals, Vol. 5, Vaughn DeLeath." I first heard her on a Victor LP entitled "1928." My mom told me that Miss DeLeath was a great singer, and her "Baby Your Mother Like She Babied You" really turned me on to her style of "crooning." She made a lot of records on Edison Diamond Disk. I have and enjoy "Mah Lindy Lou" and "Marianna" on an Edison Diamond Disk.

Hey, if you'd like something to play on your antique radio or your state-of-the-art system, she is a great choice. Check out "Jeannine, I Think of Lilac Time," "Birmingham Bertha," "Honey," and "Honey, I'se Awaitin' Jes Fo' You."

The Zenith History Debate

Dear Editor:

The subject doesn't really matter: Put two or more experts in a room, and they're bound to disagree.

In the case of Alan Douglas vs. the Radio Professors, it's clearly become more of a personal issue than not seeing eye-to-eye on Zenith history. There is no room on either side for this kind of egotistical behavior in this hobby.

Wouldn't the antique radio community be better served if the parties in question pooled their knowledge and resources to provide a comprehensive reference for collectors, rather than performing a verbal mudslinging for an uninterested audience?

Mike Koste, Ambler, PA

A.R.C. on the Internet — Soon!

Dear Editor:

I just wanted to share my thoughts on A.R.C. and the internet. In a nutshell, I hope you do decide to use this medium for your magazine. I enjoy buying and selling novelty radios and tube radios. Please do consider using the internet for your great magazine so that I can buy more radios through you. I continue to visit your website every month as I do enjoy what is installed there.

Gary Arnold, Marion, NC

Dear Editor:

After many years, I will be changing my First-Class subscription to Periodical Class when it is time to renew. Why? Because I've discovered I no longer look at the "For Sale" classifieds. I look at A.R.C. now only for the articles and to peruse the "Wanted" ads.

All of my mail order purchases, about 1 or 2 a month, are done on the internet auction services. I like the ability to search, to see the radio and a detailed description, and to know the radio is there. Gone is the interruption of someone's dinner just to find that the radio is sold, or the seller is asking too high a price. For example, the ebay radio auction site is now up to over 2,000 radio listings — up from only 300 just 6 short months ago.

I think, if A.R.C. is to survive, it must make the internet transition too.

R.J. Dial, Pleasanton, CA

Subscribers, look for A.R.C.'s classified ads on the internet soon! Ads will appear from both surfers and readers, with A.R.C. as the link between the two groups. (Editor)

Kudos to A.R.C.

Dear Editor:

I write to emphasize the personal relationship I feel with A.R.C. as embodied by the superb staff. Every transaction I've had with A.R.C. since its first edition has been in the manner I prefer to conduct my personal relationships. It is so rare in commerce that I want to tell you folks to pat yourselves on your backs!

Congratulations on a job done much more than well — and I enclose my check for a two-year renewal, First Class, to extend for 26 issues through December 2000.

Dennis J. Osborne, Raleigh, NC

Dear Editor:

Keep up the good work! I am renewing my subscription for two years First Class, so even though I don't buy green bananas at my age, I expect to be reading your great publication for a long time to come. Take care of #1!

Stan Lopes, Concord, CA

Dear Editor:

I took a subscription for only six months, but want six months more. I love your publication — it's great!

Jack Busk, Cottonwood, AZ

Tube Lore

A REFERENCE FOR USERS AND COLLECTORS

By Ludwell Sibley

For serious tube enthusiasts, a new look into tubes from 1920 to the present: history of design trends, technical data, equivalencies, stocking-up hints, "where-used" information, even recent auction prices. Here's what it contains:

- Trends in Tube Design: major styles that shaped the industry - acorns, metals, loktals, miniatures and subminis, lighthouse, nuvistors, compactrons. Odd design variants and special "reliable" types.
- Receiving and Audio Types: "prehistoric" types from 25 tiny manufacturers as well as the big guys. Information on a lot of collectible tubes in one place. Basic data on lots of later types not found in ordinary tube handbooks, and early CRTs.
- Special-Purpose and Transmitting Tubes: covers the familiar ones and lots of unknown types. "Regular" tubes, plus magnetrons, klystrons, thyratrons, ignitrons, camera tubes, etc. Capsulized characteristics on 2300 "specials" from 5512 to 9019. Helps identify that just-found "whatzit."
- Military Types: a researched list of Signal Corps "VT" tubes; historic Navy types; coverage of Canadian "REL" tubes.
- Unique Tubes from major makers: De Forest, Eimac, GE, Raytheon, RCA, Sylvania, Westinghouse. A 13-page chapter on Western Electric!
- User's Guide: ideas on testing, adapting, repairing, reactivating, reading date codes, detecting the real maker of private-brand tubes, turning random bagfuls into usable repair stock.
- TV Sweep Types: what tubes are used in eight audio amps and 78 amateur transmitters/linears; hints on substituting as the originals get scarcer and more expensive.
- Auction Prices: for collectible and audio tubes, from six major tube-rich sales.

Vacuum Tube Repair Wafers

These tube repair wafers are solid-state devices for quick and easy repair of early vacuum tubes. The wafer is installed by simply sliding it over the tube pins and reinserting the tube into its socket. If the filament is intact, but there is little or no emission, the filament may be lit for best visual effect. However, the tube can be open filament.

No change in radio operating voltages is required. Any number of tubes may be repaired in a radio. If wafers are installed on all tubes, the B+ voltage may usually be reduced without sacrificing volume or sensitivity. Performance will vary between radio models.

$10.00/each ($7.50/ea. 3 or more)

Antique Radio Power Supply

The H15/ H16 power supplies operates most tube type battery radios from low cost batteries. The H15/H16 steps up the voltage from a 6V battery to provide 22.5V, 45V, and 90VDC for the "B" voltage requirements.

A very desirable feature of the H15/H16 is the method of switching power on and off. This function is provided by the switch on the radio. No radio modification required.

The "A" voltage required by the radio can be from "C" or "D" flashlight batteries or from a 6V gelled electrolyte battery when operating 5V tubes. When operating 1.5, 2, or 3V tubes the H15/H16 can be powered by 4 "C" or "D" flashlight batteries or from a 6V gelled electrolyte battery. The gelled electrolyte battery can operate both the H15/H16 and the 6V "A" supply for 5V tubes from one battery.

Order the H15 of parallel filaments or the H16 for series filaments.

The compact size, 4"X4"X3/4", allows the unit to be installed with batteries in the battery compartment of most radios.

H15 or H16: $99.50. Accessories: "D" cell holders: $6.00 per set. 6V 10AH battery $31.00. Battery charger $45.00. 1.5 - 90V socket $9.50.

Active Antenna

Allows antique radios which were designed for a long wire outdoor antenna to operate on a 42" indoor whip antenna. Portable, operates from a 9 volt battery.

Only $34.95

New Atwater Kent Breadboard Switch -

Only $50

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING POLICY

ONE FREE 20-WORD AD for subscribers in each issue; additional words are 29¢ each. See details below. Classified ads sent by mail, fax, e-mail or by any other method must be received (not just postmarked!) by Noon Eastern Time on the classified ad deadline date to guarantee inclusion in the current issue. Late ads are held for the following issue. Please enclose correct payment with all ads. Stamps or cash are OK for small amounts. (Canadian and other foreign advertisers, please see "Payment" on page 2 for methods.) "Free words" cannot be accumulated from month to month; free words must be requested when ad is submitted.

Faxed & e-mailed ads: Please see additional information on the inside front cover.

When including ads with other A.R.C. correspondence, write the ads on a separate piece of paper. Include SUB# with ad. Ads may be sent in advance; but, write each ad on a separate piece of paper and indicate the month (or successive two months) you want the ad to run.

To minimize our typing errors: Please write legibly. Use both capital and small letters. Do not use a dash between words. Carefully write the following numbers and letters (especially in model numbers) since some can look alike; for example 1, l and I (the number one, the capital i and the small L.) Also: 0, O , o, Q and D; r and n; 6, b and G; V, U, u, v and Y; A and R; 5, S and s; 2, Z and z. We try to correct spelling errors, so when using an uncommon word or manufacturer which we might mistake as a more common word or manufacturer, note it so that we do not "correct" it. Editor's annotations are in [brackets].

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be so identified. Advertisers must agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied, and to comply with a buyer's refund request on unaltered returned items.

The publisher reserves the right to edit ads without notification to the advertiser and to reject ads for any reason. Names other than the advertiser will be edited out of ads. Ads with non-radio-related items will be returned or edited unless the non-radio-related items are for trade of radio-related items, or they are incidental to and appear at the end of an otherwise acceptable ad. The publisher is not responsible for errors due to illegibly written ads or for any other reason. See also Publishing Rights on page 2.

Clubs: Since club activities receive free coverage on the Coming Radio Events pages, the free 20 words may not be used for club activity ads. A discount on display advertising is available for clubs.

CLASSIFIED AD DETAILS

Deadline: NOON ET– 10th of the month!

Classified ads must have a standard heading such as WANTED, FOR SALE, FOR TRADE, FOR SALE/TRADE, SERVICES, MESSAGE, HELP, AUCTION, MEET, etc. This heading is the only bold or all-capitalized words allowed in the ad. Capitalize only manufacturer names, model names, etc. This standard ad format makes scanning the ads easier.

Before writing your ad, please look over the ads in a recent issue of A.R.C., and try to write your ad in the same style. Full name (or company name) and address is required in all classified ads; we will add it if you forget.

To encourage varied content of the ads, the same classified ad may be run only once per issue and for only two consecutive months. (To run an ad longer, use a boxed classified or display ad.)

(If ad is canceled, this amount cannot always be refunded.)
